I'm Lucero, an Andalusian (and-uh-lou-shan) horse. My breed comes from Spain, but I don't speak Spanish. I speak horse and I whinny and neigh ALOT to my best friend Trigger. I like it when Trigger is right next to me and when I can't see him, I make alot of noise until I can see him again.

I'm curious and friendly and I love meeting new people. In this picture, I'm saying hello to one year old Evelyn. Sometimes she doesn't feel well, but when she came to visit me, she reached right up to touch my nose and giggled alot. I'm glad Evelyn came to see me because she was able to forget about not feeling well for a little while.

Things to know about me: My name means "shining light" in Spanish.

My favorite movie characters: Bruno from Encanto & Olaf from Frozen

This is me and my Veteran friend Mike. He let me taste his Chai Tea. It was good!

Me and Veteran Greg. He gets me.
